SCOPE AND PURPOSE

This timely program provides the most current update on the statutes, regulations, and cases governing employer-sponsored health plans. The four-hour presentation offers a framework for understanding ERISA, HIPAA, COBRA, and tax law aspects of health plans and their administration. Any new legislation or regulations in this area will be discussed.

This program is for anyone who is, wants to be, or does not want to be considered a health plan fiduciary. It is for those who deal with managed care plans and want to understand the employee benefit laws, where violations can result in $100 per day penalties, or worse. Attorneys who represent fiduciaries (or non-fiduciaries), employers, welfare benefit plans, plan providers, HMOs, insurance companies, network organizers, and managed care organizations will find the discussions helpful to their daily practice. Plan administrators, human resource managers, insurance executives and agents, utilization review providers, and health plan consultants who attend will broaden their understanding of the operative legal issues in the employee benefits area.

Registrants have the opportunity to submit questions for discussion by the faculty panelists during the broadcast.
